We are so lucky to have you all.

St. Pete Residential Composting Program

Kitchen and yard waste make up about 30% of what is thrown away? Composting helps divert these materials from landfills and incinerators to deliver nutrients back into the soil.

Composting is the natural process of recycling organic material, like kitchen and yard waste, which breaks down to form a usable, nutrient-rich fertilizer.

St. Pete's residential composting program empowers residents to minimize impact on environment. Residents in single-family homes are invited to sign up the free program.

Participants in the composting program receive a free composting bin from the City to use in their backyard. There will be no collection service, but the resident will be responsible for feeding and maintaining the bin and will reap the benefits of the nutrient-rich compost by spreading it on their lawn or garden or even donating to a local community garden.

For more information, see our composting guide.

Eldorado Furniture replaces Sports Authority

Our founder, Manuel Capó, and his two sons came from Cuba to Miami, Florida and opened the original El Dorado Furniture store shortly after in 1967. Fifty years of dedication has turned El Dorado into one of the top furniture retailers in the country. Known for our boulevard-style showroom, we have furniture ranging from modern to traditional.

Besides being a furniture retailer, we are also passionate about giving back, as we care deeply about our neighbors. We believe that helping the residents of our community makes it better, which is why we have partnered with organizations

“Baseball City ~ St. Pete”

Have you seen this BEAUTIFUL sculpture that was just installed outside of the new St. Petersburg Police Department? 🧠👮 'Community DNA' is the work of St Petersburg local Catherine Woods and depicts an abstracted guardian figure - a protector of the community - designed to represent the heroic dignity of the St. Petersburg Police Department and the department's commitment to the community. 👨‍👩‍👧 The artist incorporated thousands of photos of St Pete buildings, neighborhoods and parks into abstract collages, which she then painted onto glass and pierced into stainless steel. 😊 When you visit, see if you can spot some of St Pete's most popular landmarks in the design 🌞 😊
